

SPACE TRAVEL: Putting People Into SPACE

INTERNATIONAL SPACE DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE®

SHERATON GATEWAY HOTEL
LOS ANGELES, CA
MAY 24-27, 2018

National Space Society

In 2018 commercial space travel will begin putting people into space.

1. In February 2017 Elon Musk announced that SpaceX will fly two private citizens on a trip around the moon in 2018.
2. In April 2017 George Whitesides confirmed that Virgin Galactic is on track to begin commercial passenger spaceflights in 2018.
3. Also in April 2017 Jeff Bezos announced that Blue Origin plans to carry its first paying passengers in 2018.

Space travel is putting people into space. Where are they going? How will they get there? How will they live there? What is needed? How do we make it happen?

The National Space Society invites you to come learn about the current ideas and plans for space travel, development and space settlements at the International Space Development Conference.

The 37th annual International Space Development Conference®, ISDC® 2018, hosted by the National Space Society will be held in Los Angeles from May 24 - 27 at the Sheraton Gateway Los Angeles Hotel.

ISDC® 2018 is where is where space leaders, astronauts, enthusiasts and the next generations of young students and professionals participate on space development; its scientific, economic, technical and social challenges and potentials. ISDC 2018 will host various sessions and workshops focused in multiple areas of space development: Moon and Mars exploration and settlement, deep space exploration, innovative technology, science fiction influence in today's technology, commercialization of space, collaboration in space, asteroids, living in space, space based solar power, space debris, space tourism, and space law and policy, among others.

ISDC® 2018 Conference Program includes four morning plenary sessions, four lunches and four dinners featuring keynote speakers, an Exhibit Hall, poster sessions, NASA/NSS Space Settlement Design Contest, book signing and much more for executives, managers, industry professionals, entrepreneurs, young professionals and students, and space leaders and space enthusiasts. Thought leaders in the space industry will share about past, current and upcoming innovations.
